Our theme this year is "On the Rise". We picked this theme to emphasize our never-ending battle to rise to the top in all we do. We chose the tilted "O" for our logo to symbolize the "O" given out for excellence in academics, athletics, and band.

Exchange students from

Salut tout le monde!

I'm Cat, exchange student from Belgium. Last year, when a Rotary member told me that I would go to NY State, I thought of a big city.

But coming from a kind of big city, I wanted something different. I landed in Oxford and it's the right town for me: you guys are so friendly and I'm having so much fun!

I'm also very lucky with my three great host families: the Bartles, the Spauldings and the Smalls.

To whoever thinks of being an exchange student, I'd say: Do it because it is something wonderful to feel the evolution of the year from the time you arrive and you don't know a single person till you really feel at home.

Thank you very much to all of you who made my stay here wonderful.

Cat

Dear Friends,

One year ago I decided to be an exchange student because I've always liked to know new and different things. Also I've had this opportunity that will help me in my life..

My experience as an exchange student has been great. I had a lot of fun and it will be one of my best memories. I've met a lot of very nice people like all those who helped me and made my visit here more exciting. Thanks to my host family, the Taranto's. Thanks a lot.

My foreign exchange in Denmark has been even better than I hoped. I arrived in July, spent 2 weeks in language camp and then moved in with my first host family. School started in mid-August and is very different from school at home. I stay with a class of 30 kids all day and many of them have become great friends. School is demanding. I speak only Danish now, but the social life is wonderful. Also, I have the chance for much more travel. 1 week in London with my class in March; 3 weeks of a Eurotrip with other exchange students in May. It's been an awesome year but I do miss my friends. See you next summer.

Kate Spaulding

all over the world

Hi Oxford!

I'm Wojtek, exchange student from Poland. My stay has been everything I hoped for and more. Oxford is very small for me (my city, Prava, has 1,000,000 inhabitants). But it's fun. Most everyone knows me and I have a lot of friends. I have great families, too.

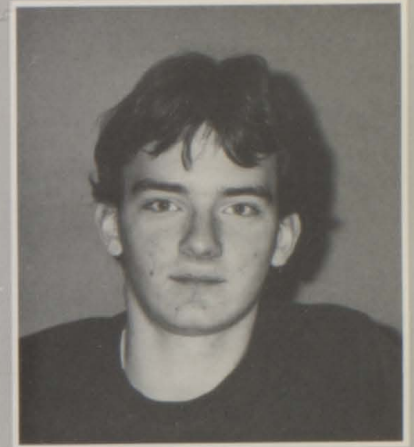

I have found that there is a lot to do in this town despite what people say. I played soccer in the fall and I want to play tennis in the spring.

I have had exciting trips to NY City (twice).

What can I say about being an exchange student besides it being a chance to forget your own language. I'm starting to dream in English now.

I would like to thank all you cool people at Oxford for a really good time. Good luck.

Wojtek

Hi! People.

What's up? I'm very happy to be here and I want to thank you all for making me feel at home, specially my host families: the LeClars, the Denz and the Tompkins. I'll never forget you all, and I promise I'll be back someday, so don't say goodbye just see ya. Thanks for a wonderful time.

Hola!

I spent this year in Cochabamba, Bolivia. Throughout my year overseas I had my good times and my bad times. Although when I started school here I only had about five weeks until summer vacation. I had from November until February with no school, only vacation. I was always going out and getting to know more people every place I went. Being an exchange student has taught me a lot. Not just about myself but about the people of the world. One thing I've learned that is the most important about the people of the world is that they're the same no matter where you go. You know that person you can't stand? Well they're everywhere. I've never had a problem with the people in Bolivia, actually. With blond hair and blue eyes I didn't fit in at all, but with my attitude I fit in just as well as anyone who had lived here their whole life. Just by being happy and smiling all the time. Good luck to the future exchange students! It's a great experience no matter where you go.

OXFORD HIGH SCHOOL
JUNIOR PROM
MAY 20, 1995
9:00PM - 1:00 AM

ADMIT ONE

Guys, guys, guys... Mike, Andy, Sean, Jeff, Chad, Trevor, Dan, Jim, and Rusty- share a moment of male bonding during the prom of '95.

Ooooh-ah... Many Spectators crowd the gym to watch the crowning.

Up, up, and away... Chad Carhart assisted by Mitch Cluff, is on the rise.

Robin Mayhood and Jeff Meek enjoy their newly bestowed royalty as king and queen .

Y-MCA... The crowd was dancing to one of our favorite tunes.

Hard work and imagination leads to a wonderful evening

Prom of 1995 was a time that won't be forgotten. As a class we really worked hard to prepare this special evening, but while working hard we didn't spend a lot of money on our prom because we wanted the money for our senior trip. Our theme was "Imagine" by John Lennon. I would like to thank everyone for their hard work and time.

Fun not "accidental" for the Class of 1996

A unique group of graduates

We will always have our memories! I know this is what everyone writes, but it's hard to believe we're seniors already. All in all, I would say our high school years were fun.

The class of 1996 is one of the smaller classes Oxford has had, but that doesn't mean we didn't have fun. Our class has been unique in many ways. We lost Spirit Week two times in a row and then took third place our junior year. But this really didn't bother us because we had fun anyway. Who could ever forget our ten minute airband our freshman year! And our airband about the origin of the bra and a boogie on someone's finger. And we never understood why we did bad in the airband competition!

Another unique thing concerning our class, is that out of seventy people, only about ten people haven't been in a car accident. We've managed to end up in just about every ditch in town, either by accident or by trying to miss that "imaginary deer." We've hit snowbanks, parked cars, parked buses, and even flipped cars. Who can even remember how many cars Paul Ehly has ruined!

Our class did a great job with our junior prom. It was a beautiful dance with Jeff Meek and Robin Mayhood crowned King and Queen. As seniors, our class also did a great job with the Homecoming dance. Andy Head and April O'Reilly were crowned King and Queen.

I'm sure we'll miss this place after we're done with high school and have moved on, even though we can't wait to leave now. We'll always have our memories of spirit week, prom, homecoming, and what we did best, going to parties hosted by "other people." Hopefully, everyone will be successful in their years to come. Good luck to everyone in the class of 1996.

omecoming: A three day event

Homecoming was a three day event. Thursday, October 26, was the parade. Sophomores won the contest for the float. The freshmen and juniors tied for second and following up in last place were the seniors. On Friday, October 27, the football game started at 7:30pm. Even though we lost, we all had a great time cheering on our team. On Saturday, October 28, at 8:00pm, was our dance. We all had lots of fun dancing the night away. Danielle Marshman, one of our candidates, remembers it this way: "Being a homecoming candidate was a lot of fun. Even though I didn't win we had a great time making and wearing the sashes, riding in the wagon and getting about 1,000 pictures taken of us. April and Andy make a great King and Queen and everyone is happy for them."

Freshman Float: The class of '99 rocks like Woodstock '69.

I Like To Move It: Look at those cheerleaders finishing off their great Homecoming halftime show with a bang.

Watch!... Jeremiah Lewis imitates Ryan Bowers, who threw his hair in the bonfire.

Junior Float: The Juniors make a special float for Mr. Abbott thanking him for his great years of coaching.

Sophomore Float: On the Root Beer Float the sophomores Rock & Roll to the tunes of the '50's.

Senior Float: The seniors enjoy themselves on the "Senior" float.

Everyone watches while Mike gets dragged to the ground by one of Odessa-Montour's players.

The Homecoming King and Queen dance the night away to We've Got Tonight.

It's time... Mr. Abbott and Mr. Cooper discuss strategy to pull off a win.

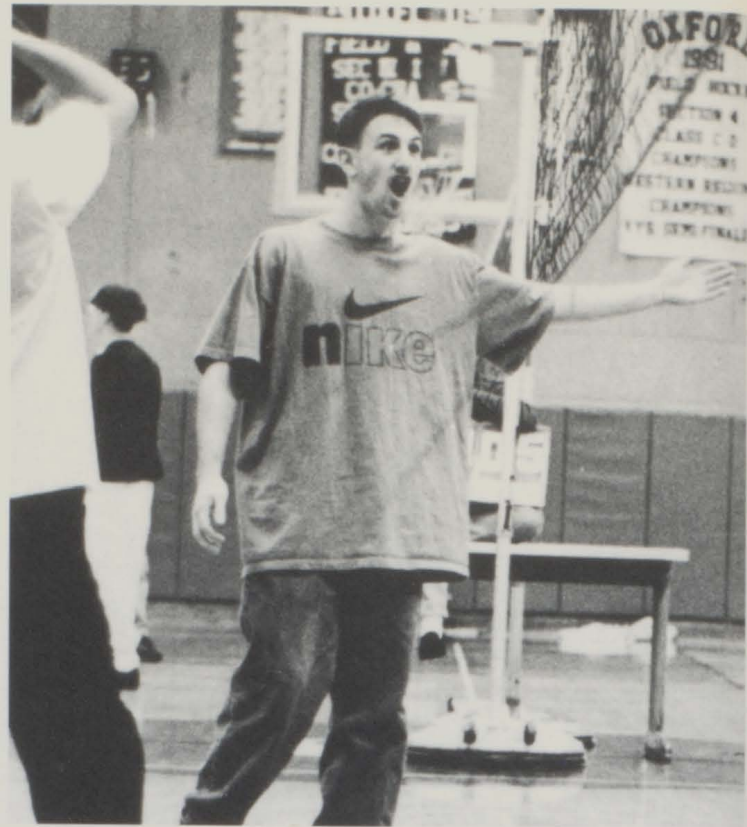

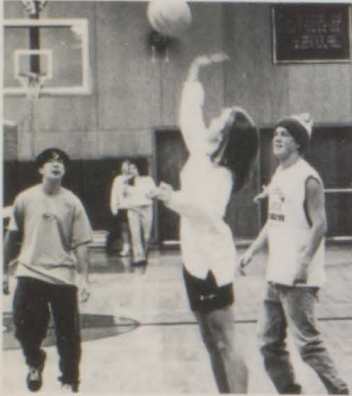

It's Not Just A Game!

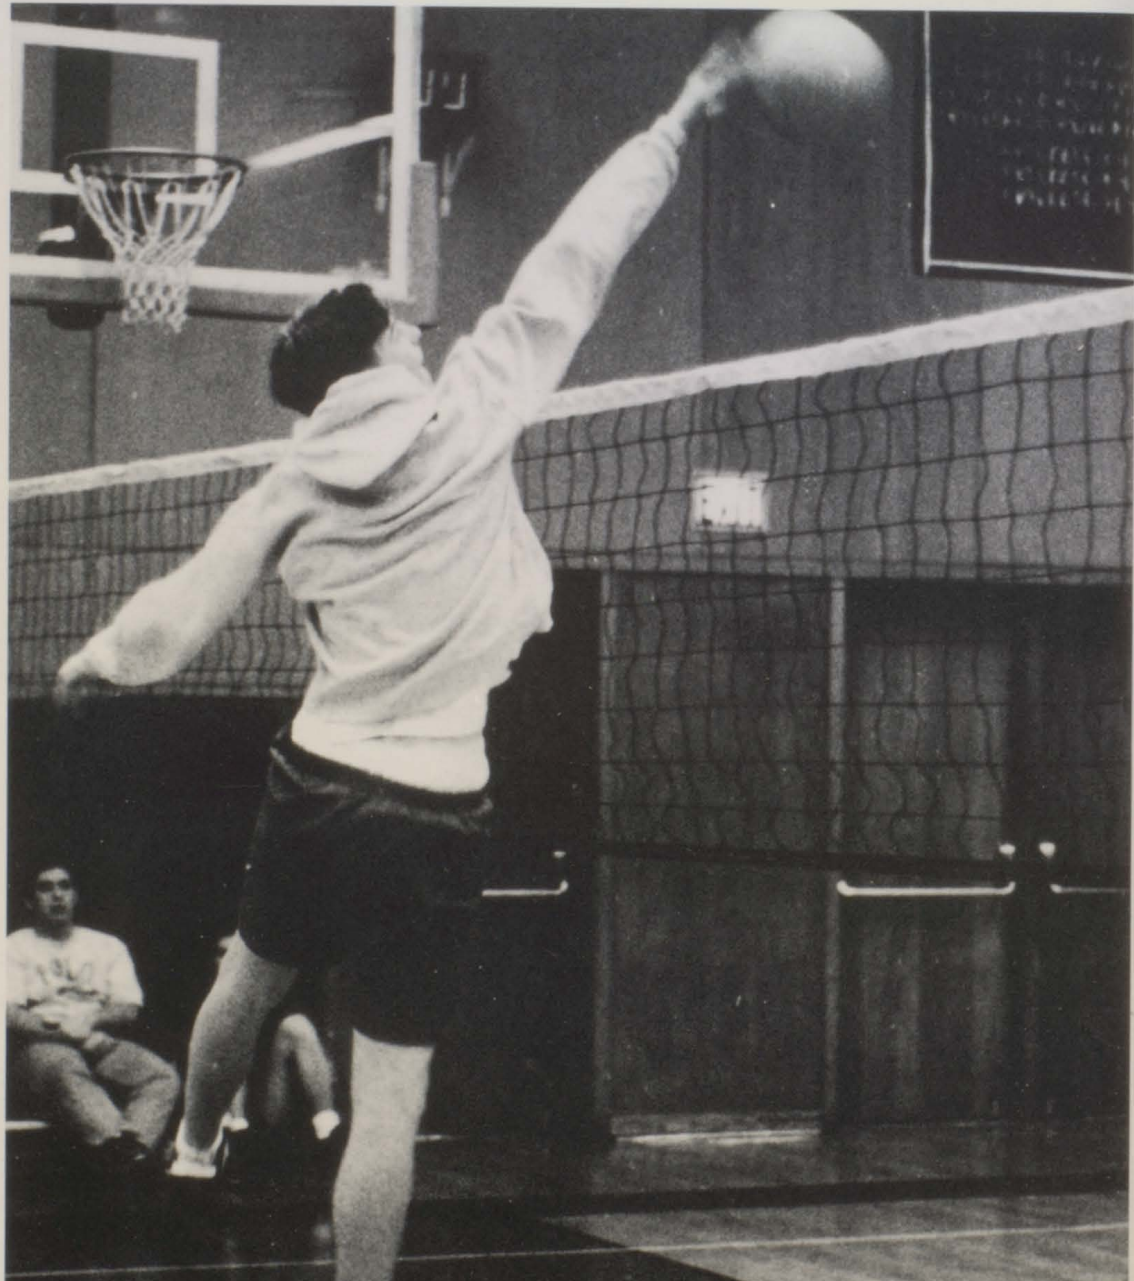

Up and away... Robin jumps for the ball to try and spike it.

Stay on your toes... Saskia tries hard to hit the ball over the net.

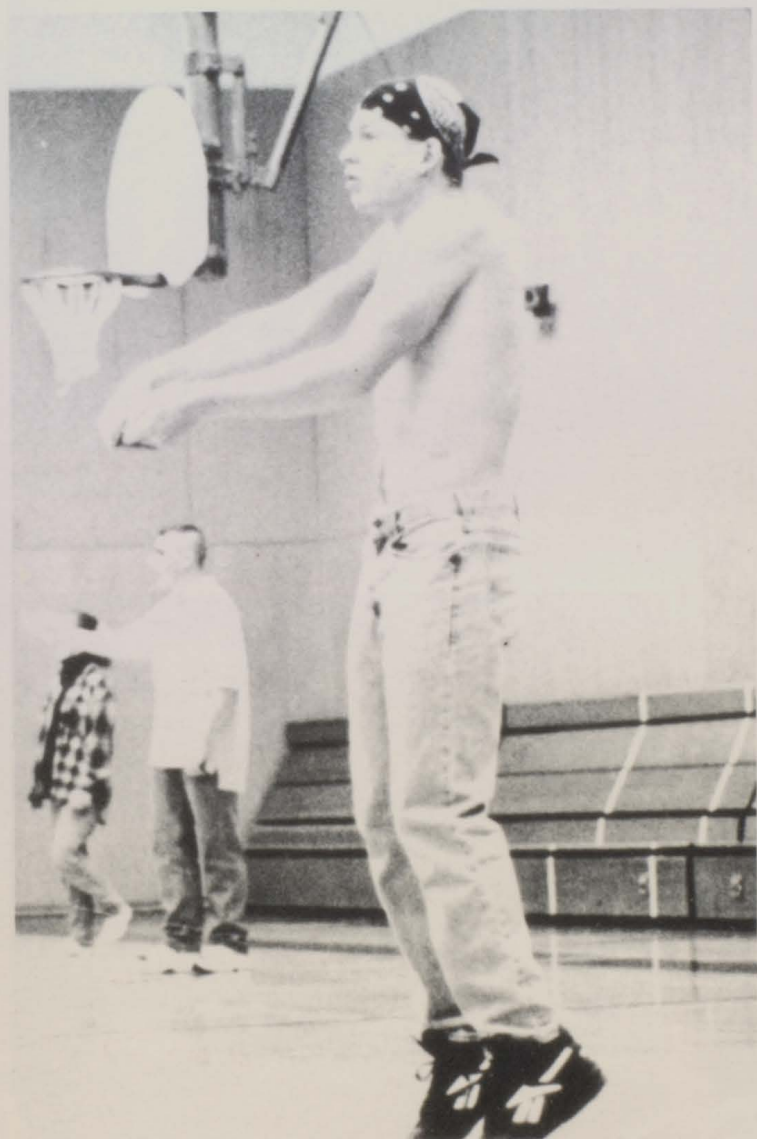

Ready to serve... Jim gets in position to serve a nice and easy serve.

1,2,3, Spike... Brian spikes the ball while no one is ready to return the ball.

Service without a smile... Cool and emotionless, Erik watches the ball sail toward the net and hopes for an ace.

Bump that ball... Andy takes pride as he bumps the ball over the net.

This is what they had to say...

"The thing I like the most is the team spirit."

Hard work and practice improves technical skills.

NO FEAR!

The 1995 football cheerleaders have no fear! The cheerleaders were selling No Fear tattoos and shakers to spread spirit. This year's squad was very interesting. We cheerleaders had our days, but we managed to deal with our problems. It took a lot of hard work and practice to get where we are. This year Ms.

VanDuyne showed us the better, technical way to cheer. We adjusted well and quickly with her technique. It was a lot more fun too! We all thank Ms. VanDuyne for making cheerleading a sport in Oxford school. I think I speak for everyone when I say that this was the best year for us cheerleaders.

-Stacey Misiano

Row-dy! The cheerleaders were definitely rowdy for the Homecoming game.

Boom! Lacey blocks her opponent from getting the ball.

Erin uses all her power to kick the ball away from the goal.

Great team, Excellent season

We had a great team for girls' soccer this year. We had a lot of fun together. We even had a winning record for a part of the time this year. All in all it was an excellent season and I was glad to be a part of the team.
-Erin Tompkins

FUN SEASON

Turning our record around

The men's 1995-1996 varsity soccer season was a lot of fun. On top of turning our record from last year around to an even 12-8, we all got along with each other and had a great time. We'll all miss Jeff, Rusty, Matt, Jeremiah, and Wojciech. They really were fun to be teammates with. This season we proved a lot to ourselves and the school. We went to sectional play with an 11-7 mark. We won against Elmira- Notre-Dame 3-0, but lost the Section 4 quarterfinal to an impressive Seton Catholic team. It was a great game and everyone played real well. I'm really looking forward to next year, as is everyone else I'm sure.

Close team enjoys season

This year was a very eventful year for the JV field hockey team. We beat Greene for the first time in years. We were number one in the league. We worked very well together and got along with each other most of the time. As captains of the 1995 JV field hockey team, we experienced a terrific season. Working together and making friends for life was a big part of our team. We have never been on such a close team, with so many great athletes. We would like to thank our coach, Mrs. Smith and all of the girls on the team.

Tennis, anyone?

This year was not a successful season for the tennis team. Even though we lost a lot of matches, we had a lot of fun. The bus rides home, the long talks, and the trouble some of us had when it came to keeping hold of our clothing were the highlight of the season.

A Great Year!

The season has been a great one. We all had lots of fun. We had a problem scoring in the third quarter though. One of the highs of the season was beating B.G. at the Norwich tournament by two points. That was great! Some people have sat the bench a lot but don't let that get you down because you have contributed to the team just as much as everyone else. You will have your day. Stick with it and practice hard and you can't fail! Mr. Moore has been a great coach and all the sophomores moving up to varsity will miss him.

Many injuries made for a tough season

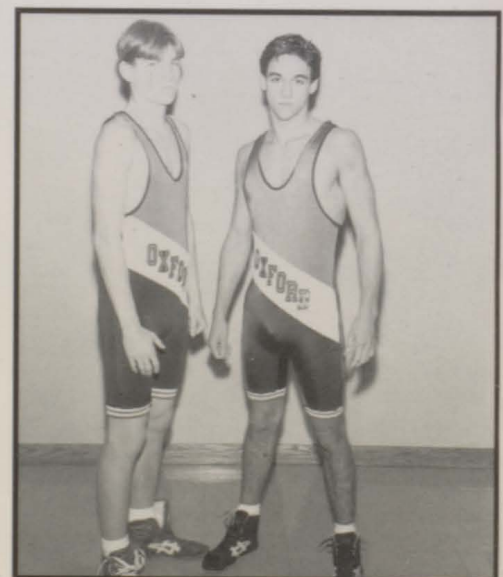

This wrestling season was very frustrating with all the injuries we had. Despite losing most of our dual meets due to numerous forfeits, we wrestled very well on the mat. One great swing after another!

The 1994 Golf team had a very successful year. We got to play on some of the most picturesque courses in the area. We competed in the Section IV Class C-D Tournament in Marathon. In order to qualify for this tournament, a team must shoot 45 over par or better on an away course. We did well there, despite the sloppy conditions.

Bryan Smith and Chad Bradley competed in the Section IV individual tournament in Cornell. They qualified for this tournament by averaging 6 over par or better in all of their matches. We got fourth place in the Sus Tournament, which was held in Oxford. Bryan Smith received the SUS MVP for the year after this tournament.

baseball team.

Last year was one of the most exciting seasons for the baseball team. Although our record doesn't show it, we played our best against the best teams in our division. We had problems keeping our intensity up and our mistakes down when playing against teams we should have beaten.

This year our team should be a lot better, due in part to the fact that a lot of us played summer baseball. This should improve our games. Also this year will be better because we are getting some good players moved up from the JV team, which won the SUS East Championship. Our older players are going to have to keep working and take control in close games. If we can cut down on the mental mistakes we will win the SUS Championship.

Class of 1997

When the best class that Oxford has ever known (1997, of course) graduates next year, the teachers here will realize things are certainly going to go downhill from there on. No class can match our ambition and determination to succeed in life. We are the most free-spirited and humorous group, and of course the most intelligent. (Not to mention the most conceited!) So enjoy us while we're still here. There's only one more year, fair Oxford!
 Joanne Perez

With one year left until graduation, the Class of 1997 has survived through many memorable events. Ten years down the road we can all look back and remember...

As freshmen we experienced many events supporting Oxford Academy's Bicentennial celebrations.

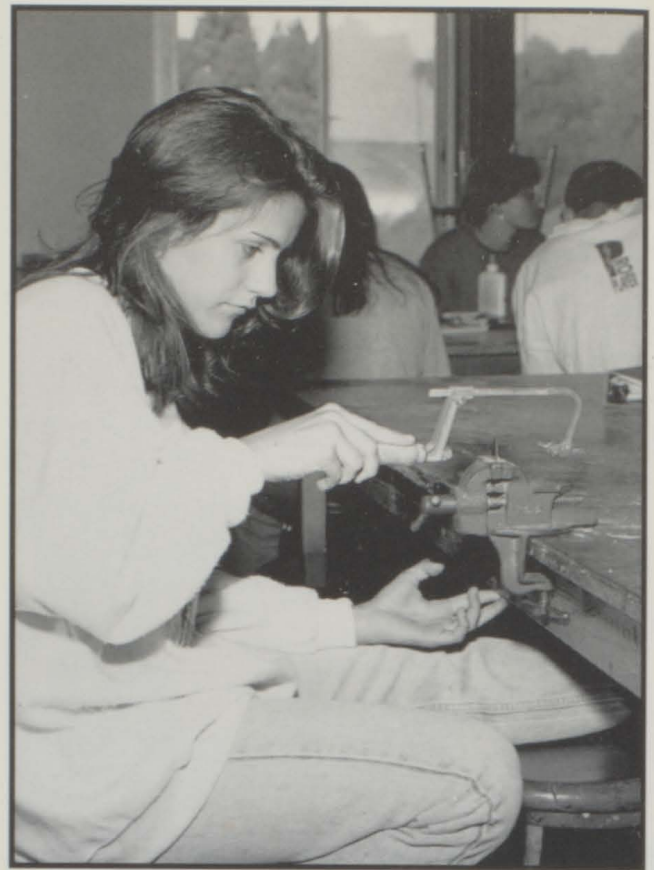

I'm sure we can all remember our sophomore class Spirit Week airband. The underwear has to go!

Also, for two consecutive years, one of our fellow classmates won our Clyde Cole Tournament for his weight class.

By the time we graduate, certain students of the Class of 1997 will be experts at cleaning the cafeteria. You know who you are!

All in all, probably the most memorable, touching event in our high school career would be the spring of 1995 SADD Assembly. I hope it had an impact.

With seventeen out of thirty Honor Society members being juniors, many people will succeed. Good Luck!!

The class of 1998

This year's sophomore class, the class of 1998, comprises a great group of individuals. We are proud of our involvement, not only with other classes, but with each other. We have learned to work together, how to be a team. It's been an important, lesson for us to learn; even more important for us to remember. There are many outstanding, talented individuals in the sophomore class who are the leaders of tomorrow, destined to make their mark on Oxford, and wherever life takes them. Congratulations sophomores!

Class of 1999

Being a freshman is a whole new experience. When everyone comes into high school they expect it to be some big social event. There are a lot more expectations from the teachers. I think everyone is forced to grow up a little. That may be good and may be bad. Overall so far, it has been fun with many new experiences.

O.M. strikes the High School.

Oxford gets First High School O.M. Team

We've gained and lost members over the course of four years, but all in all we've been very successful. We've come in first two times and traveled to state competition. Last year we were the first Division III high school team and came in second place which is very good for going up against a team that has been together for twelve years. We hope to do well this year and stick together to the end. Kevin, Kevin, Calvin, Sarah, Roxy

Calvin Locke, Kevin Wall, Roxanna Morey, Sarah Williams, Kevin Glover, Kevin Weidman

Freshmen Bring O.M. Over From Middle School

Last year this team was together in eighth grade and this year they stayed together to handle high school competition. The team stuck together throughout the whole year. They learned what it meant to stick with one another. The freshmen handled the challenge, and they placed second in regional competition.

- Melissa, Carly, Jaimie, Tara, Heather, Hillary and Brandi.

FRONT: Melissa Carroll, Carly Abbott; SECOND ROW: Jaimie Carhart, Tara Deubler, Brandi Benedict, Heather Sabines, and Hilary Wilcox

What Is O.M.?

O.M. stands for Odyssey of the Mind. O.M. is competition between different regional teams in the same problem. Each problem has two parts: long-term and spontaneous. Long-term is an eight-minute problem that the team designs an answer for. Spontaneous is a problem that the team does not know ahead of time. The team solves it the best way they know how. The regional competition is in February at Oneonta.

Law & Order Oxford pleads a civil case.

The Lawyers: Arielle Monaco, Kevin Weidman, and Jenny Cuyle

A case to be solved ?

The Mock Trial team this year involved students from grades ten through twelve. The team picks three lawyers and the rest become the witnesses. The witnesses have to study the statements and memorize them, so they know what they are doing when they get grilled on the stand. The lawyers play defense and offense on different days. The trials take place against different schools at the courthouse in Norwich.

The case this year involves a guy and a girl being struck down by a senior in high school. The senior had just had a graduation party with alcohol there. The family of the kid that was struck down is suing the student and his family for negligence.

The Witnesses: Erin Tompkins, Erin Johnson, and Chantel Thompson

The Performances...

Ahh! Unhand me, but not literally! OMvention's problem was to build a machine for the handicapped.

Shadow, shadow on the wall... People say mockery is the sincerest form of flattery. The title of the problem was "Great Impressions".

work

FFA is an organization involved in leadership, participating in workshops, activities, and competitions with other districts. During the 1995 and 1996 school year we participated in district meetings, and in the fall we went to Cornell for Cornell Day for FFA. This year we sold fruit for the annual fruit sale. We also sold shirts, sweatshirts, and calendars to go with that. We are involved in community service. FFA helps prepare you for the future by teaching leadership skills, responsibility, and work skills.

one to remember.

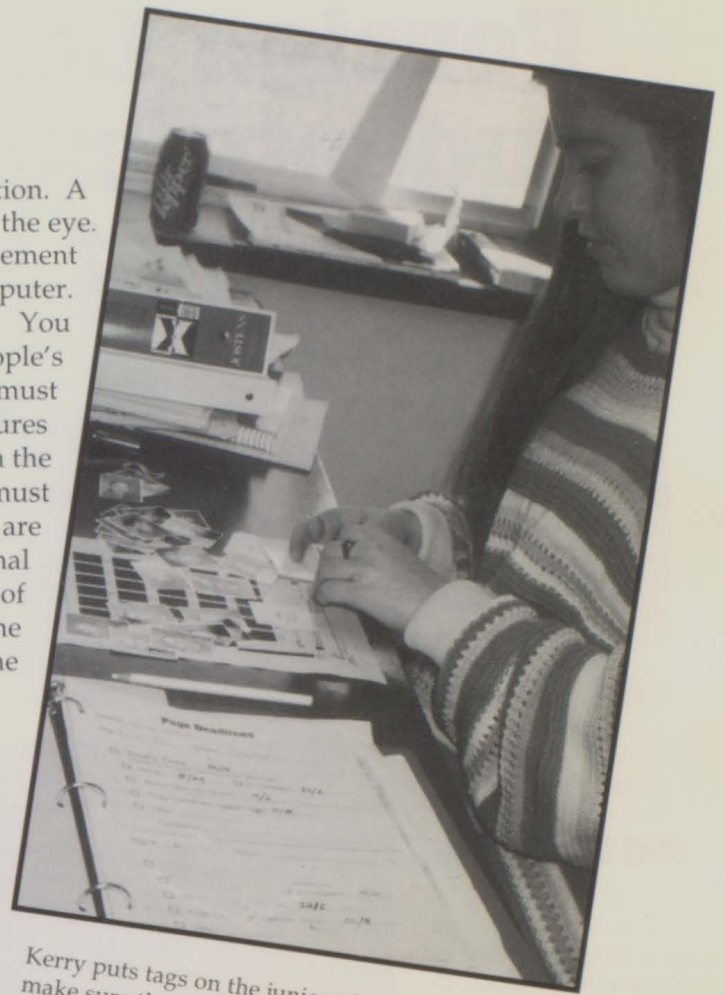

Being on the yearbook staff takes a lot of hard work and determination. A lot more work goes into the making of a yearbook than meets the eye. One of the first steps is to design the layout. A layout is the placement of pictures on the pages. The layout must be entered into the computer. The next step is to choose pictures that will fit into the spread. You also need to try to write catchy captions: sayings that will get people's attention. Before the pages are sent to be published the pictures must be tagged indicating the page and position of each picture. The pictures must be cropped which means it must be in proportion to the box on the page where it is supposed to go. There are a lot of deadlines that must be met in order to have the yearbook finished on time. There are layout deadlines, copy deadlines, picture deadlines, and the final product even has a deadline. Although the yearbook takes a lot of work I encourage anyone who is interested in joining to do so. The yearbook staff worked very hard this year and I hope you enjoy the book.

Foreign Language students experience a variety of activities

This year, a foundation for a new foreign language club has been set. The former French Club has now been extended and renamed the Foreign Language Club. Now that there is a Spanish program in this high school, the Foreign Language Club, headed by Mrs. Betsy Locke, has opened its doors to students taking either French or Spanish classes to join in on the fun. And beaucoup fun we have from making fundraisers, to the crazy initiation rituals for the new members.

Being a senior this 95-96 school year, I won't be able to see how well the Foreign Language Club will get off its feet, but I have the feeling that it will grow, sparking interest in with those different ambitions. Adios!

Involved Students Taste Diversity

The Multicultural Club is a club that offers Oxford High School students an opportunity to learn about different cultures. The formation of the club began when many of the members decided they would like to see a performance of "Romeo and Juliet" in Syracuse. We raised money and were able to attend. We even stopped to eat at an Indian restaurant. Some of the activities we have done this year are cooking different culture's foods, like Mexican, Greek, and Chinese cuisines. Also, we prepared a luncheon for the teachers and had a B-B-Q for a fund-raiser. In December we visited the Roberson Museum. At the museum we saw different Christmas trees from around the world. Our advisors for the club are Mrs. Burcroff and Mrs. Schaeffer. Our officers are Melissa Tefft- President, Joanne Perez- Treasurer, Tanya Lashway- Secretary, and Michelle Seargent- Secretary. If the club sounds interesting, come and join us. There are many more activities planned for the future.

Minding the store

This year was another great year working in the school store. The school store is run by students during their free periods. By working in the school store you learn some important things. Such things are: how to open the store, how to cash things up, and how to price things. Without Mr. Lanning or Mr. Pritchard, things just wouldn't be the same.

Expressing ourselves "Beyond Words"

Oxford High School's Literary Magazine "Beyond Words" is a way for Oxford students to express themselves through poetry, stories and art, which they submit. Together with our advisor, Mrs. Burcoff, the staff of editors (Oxford students) work as a team to put these works into a magazine. We hope it will become a tradition in Oxford's extra-curricular activities and that it remains a magazine where students can write, "Beyond Words."

Band's leaders combine wisdom and spunk

The 1994-95 Marching Band season was one I'll never forget. A lot of good things happened to the organization and to me, and I'm sure some other people will think the same way. We had a lot of fun together. Mr. Wilcox's wisdom and Mr. Jobert's spunk, I feel, work real well together. It gives us so much to work toward. They expect a lot out of us. We did really well at the Sherburne Pageant of Bands, especially bringing in the overall winner award in Class B. That day was exciting for all of us, especially for the seniors: Diane, Maureen, Beth, Corey, and Jakob. Jakob was a real nice addition to the program and we all will miss him tremendously. All in all, it was a real exciting year.

Planning the extras which make school memorable challenges patience and takes perseverance.

Students face many challenges

Academics are a challenge to most students, but some relish it more than others.

Academic Challenge is an activity designed for quick-minded, information-loving students.

In January, a pre-test is given to determine the candidates for the team. All qualifiers practice about twice a week. During the assembly at the end of Spirit Week, the class groups compete against each other. This year the junior team beat the senior team.

After Spirit Week the team is narrowed down to ten members who continue practicing until they compete. Usually there are two tournaments at TC3, the first taking place in March. This year there will only be one tournament, a single elimination with 32 teams participating, which will occur in May. Four panelists and two alternates will participate in the competition. Team members will choose which students will represent Oxford in the tournament.

The Academic Challenge Team practices after school in preparation for May's tournament at TC3.

Mr. Godfrey fires questions for the team to quicken the team's responses. After fifteen years, he has enough experience to replace Alex Trebek.

Danielle, Roxy and Jason met many times with Ms. Schaeffer to plan the great Spirit Week activities. It takes weeks of preparation to pull it off.

Kelly, Stacey, Tanya, Alesha and Kevin attend one of the required yearbook lunch meetings. Producing the yearbook each year is an enormous undertaking. People not involved do not realize what a major commitment these students make.

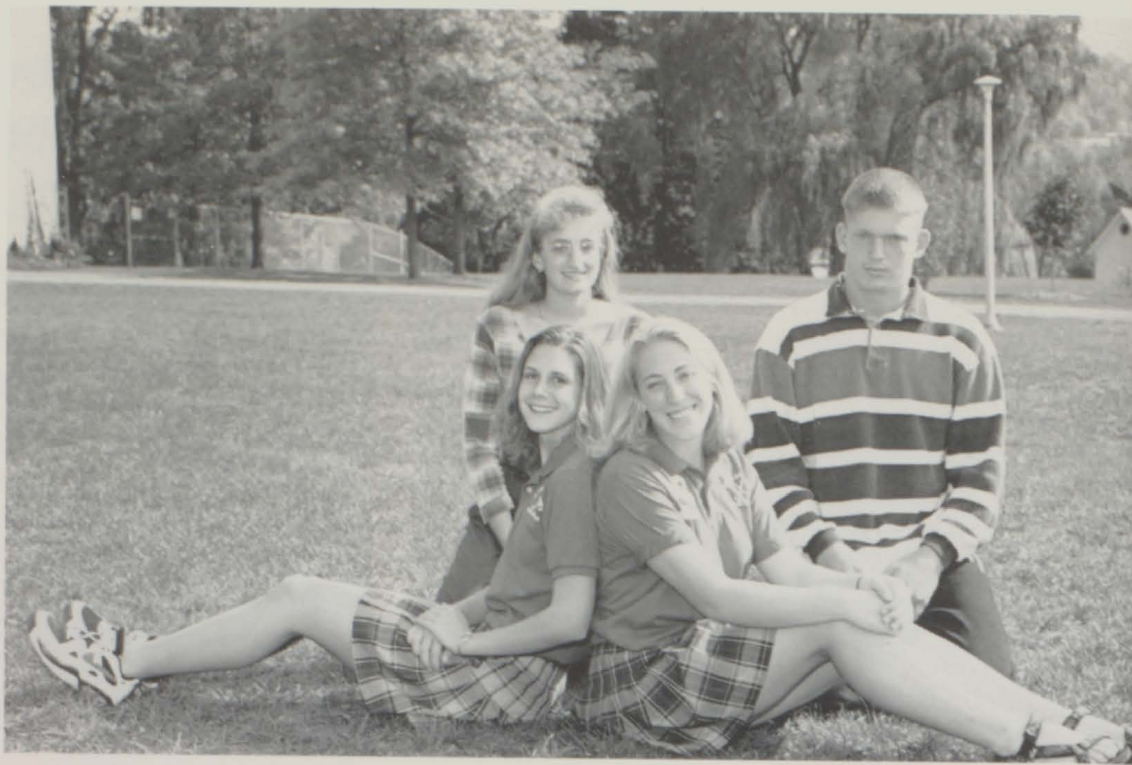

Mrs. Hall's room is packed with juniors interested in making this year's prom the very best.

Michelle looks at her watch to see if she has enough time to bring up her great idea for a dance.

Student's voices are heard

This year Student Government tried to be more involved with policy making. We also wanted the student body to be more involved. We've made some impressive accomplishments.

the effects of drinking and driving.

In '95, SADD sent a clear message about the effects of drinking and driving with a simulated DWI accident. SADD had help from 55 participants. Among those who helped were Menard's Garage and Golden's Garage, who donated cars. We also received help from several area fire departments. Eight seniors participated in the accident. Bill Kelsey was the drunk driver. Jessica Denz was the front seat passenger in the "drunk" car. She was "killed" when she went through the windshield. Jason Barrows, and Maureen Beckwith were also passengers, they were both injured. Elizabeth Costello was the driver of the other car. She was "killed" when her head hit the steering wheel. Maureen Ryan was the front seat passenger in the "sober" car. She was thrown from the car and badly injured. Diane Leach, and Kyle Cooper were passengers who were pinned in the back. Both were injured. Kyle cut a major artery open in his leg. This simulated accident reminded many students of the consequences of drinking and driving. Kerry Mack

Honor Society serves the community

Honor society had another busy year. Our community service began at Christmas time when we visited several shut-ins in Oxford. We also put together a food basket and Christmas presents for a needy family. Our next project was the Dollars For Scholars phone-athon. The last thing we did this year was the jelly bean hunt for the children in the Primary School. Erin Tompkins

To be a member of the Honor Society you must maintain an 87.0 average and have five recommendations for teachers and adults, with a certain minimum score. You also must demonstrate leadership, service, and dedication. It is a very hard thing to accomplish and should be recognized by our students.

In Memory

Jerry Dean Simpson

In Memory of Jerry Dean Simpson

Jerry was a great person, especially a great brother. Jerry liked to play baseball and soccer. He liked to go horseback riding with the family. Jerry liked to ride his three-wheeler and he wanted to learn how to play the drums. His favorite color was orange. Jerry was a person who didn't like people to criticize others. He tried to be polite to others. Jerry was a special person in our family and we live every day thinking of all of the good times we had with him. We go through every day thinking of what a great family member we were lucky enough to have.

A Classmate Remembers

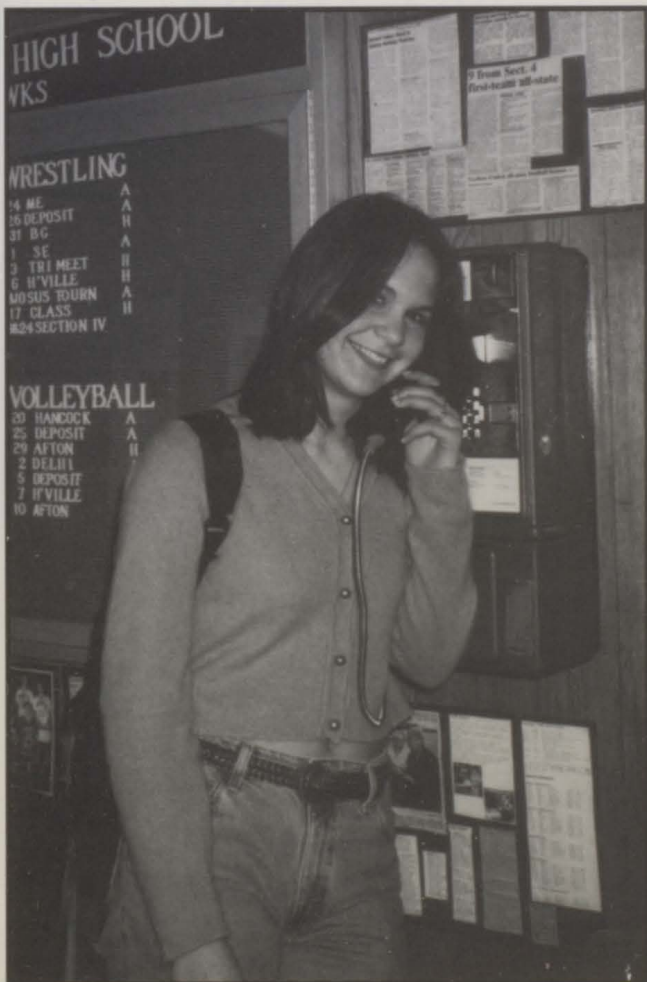

Jerry was a great person. I thought that it was important to include Jerry in this yearbook because he would have been a senior along with us. We all do miss you very much. Our thoughts will be with you and your family through the years.

This year has been a unique one for the yearbook staff. During the middle of the class we lost quite a few members for many reasons. Each took on more responsibility, and we recovered thanks to the hard work and determination of the remaining staff.

We , the yearbook staff, take our hats off to:

- Erik Korver ,who took and developed a great number of the pictures that we used in the book this year
- Diane Troxell and Jim Meek for their wonderful sports shots
- Paul Elhy for taking pictures at the TEC Center for us
- Danielle Marshman for French trip pictures
- The many students who supplied us with stories and information throughout the year.
